MIKADO TONIGHT

The famous old Gley comedy success, "In Town," as presented last night by the troupe of talented little actors, was in every way a decided success. The little ones portrayed their parts with such perfect interpretation, and threw such spirit into them, that it was difficult to believe that they are only "idiotics," and as fond of wholesome play as the average boy or girl.

Indeed, one New Yorker, who has seen many plays produced on the boards of the Eastern Metropolis, says that, in his opinion, the acting of the Lilliputians is superior to that of many two and three-star companies, and that, if they were allowed to perform there, they could play to crowded houses for over a year.

The bit of the evening was made siblity that the Lilliputians will stay in the Mongolian sail tomorrow with the Lilliputians on board, tomorrow night's performance will have to be left out. There is some doubt that the Lilliputians will be able to get berths on the Mongolia, as cable advises state that every berth is taken, and the agents here are in doubt as to whether or not the Yokohama agents have reserved state-rooms for the Little People. So there is a possibility that the Lilliputians will stay in the Mongolian sail tomorrow with the Lilliputians on board, tomorrow night's performance will have to be left out.
